RE: Speaking Invitation
 Missouri State Investigators Association
 Inn at Grand Glaise
 Lake of the Ozarks
 5 May 1988

Mr. Paul W. Robinson, President of the Missouri State Investigators Association, has invited you to be the keynote speaker at their yearly training session banquet at the Inn at Grand Glaise, Lake of the Ozarks, Missouri. You could expect an audience of 75 to 100 administrative investigators (including auditors and inspectors), attorneys and officials from the Missouri state government. The requested topic of discussion is the importance of continued training to maintain professional competence. The event would be covered by print and electronic media.

The Missouri State Investigators Association was formed by Mr. Robinson in 1984 to identify the various administrative investigators throughout state government and establish lines of communication between various agencies. The aim of the association is to cut through bureaucratic red tape, increase the efficiency in utilization of all resources, and to increase the investigators' level of professionalism. Continued training is pursued as the means to maintaining competence and professional contacts. Guest speakers are an integral part of the training.

In your role as Director of Central Intelligence, I do not think that an appearance at the Missouri State Investigators Association training session is appropriate for you and I recommend that you decline the invitation. If you agree, I have attached a letter of regret to Mr. Robinson for your signature.

Dear Judge Webster:

Congratulations on your appointment as director of the C.I.A. It is an awesome responsibility which you are more than capable of administering and leading. I'm sure you will be sorely missed in the F.B.I.

In 1984 I formed the Missouri State Investigators' Association. It was formed to identify the various administrative investigators throughout state government and establish lines of communications between various agencies. We cut through bureaucratic red tape, cut down on duplication of investigative efforts, more effectively utilize funds, resources and manpower and generally do a difficult job more efficiently. We also strive to increase our level of professionalism.

To that end, we are holding yearly training sessions to address that very concept. As this years president of our association, I would like to invite you to be our keynote speaker at our banquet May 5, 1988, at 7:00 p.m. Our training session and banquet will be held at the Inn at Grand Glaise, Lake of the Ozarks.

Should your schedule allow you to be with us, I will be more than happy to make any arrangements for your stay.

We would be honored for you to be with us.

Sincerely

Paul W. Robinson
